Hello Extraordinary Albertans,

Fall is upon us and our community is more active than ever before. The LEA has been busy upholding our mission to be a resource in initiating and propagating art and culture, while manifesting the values laid out in the 10 Principles of Burning Man. We're inspired by The Burning Man Project to pursue this quest beyond the borders of our own community in the form of civic engagement. With an ever-growing force of participants, we're doing it right! So, what actions does your LEA board take to make this happen? Take a look at the following to see what we've been up to and read to the end to see what's in store and how you can participate.

The LEA has been busy with...

DONATIONS

Donations are given as gifts from the LEA.

Gifting Food to the Default World

(Calgary Drop-In & Rehab Centre community service donation)

With money raised by the Robin Awards, directed through the LEA, we're sponsoring a full dinner with dessert for the clientele at the Drop-In Centre on September 26 and we're showing up to help prepare and serve it.

Black Rock Solar

Freezer Burn is now financially stable enough to allow us the opportunity to make a donation back to one of the many non-profit Burning Man organizations. This year you helped to choose Black Rock Solar as our recipient.

The following also received donations to support their fundraiser events:

- Hippo Love
- The Grove
- Lazer Monkeez
- Disco Dive

INITIATIVES

Initiatives are projects that the LEA puts its name and organizational resources behind, and are financially and legally liable for. Any LEA member can apply to request to produce an LEA initiative.

Beakerhead: A Taste of That Thing In the Desert

On Friday, September 12, a hard-working group of Extraordinary Albertans demonstrated communal effort to bring a "Taste of That Thing In the Desert" to Calgary during the Beakerhead festival. The entire city was invited to engage in our culture by radically expressing themselves in their favourite costumes and heading to Sunnyside in Calgary to interact with art installations, performers, art cars, the Rocket Stage DJs, and everything Burning Man. Judging by the smiles on the faces of all ages, it was a rousing success. See some of the warm feedback here:

Freezer Burn

Our home close to home was 600 participants strong this year, including our youngest burners. On the solstice weekend in June 2014, our community embodied the 10 Principles to create our best regional event to date. See some glowing comments and pictures here:

GRANTS

Grants are projects that the LEA supports, like Art Grants. Any LEA member can apply for a grant.

We love radical self-expression and this 24 foot long, wooden honeycomb pattern is no exception. It provided a stunning, psychedelic backdrop to the Grove Stage at Freezer Burn. Creators: Mark Thompson and Andy Merchant

This wooden tower, outfitted with an interactive fire cannon system controlled by the blood alcohol content of users, made its first appearance at Freezer Burn 2014. It then travelled to the Playa where it was pulled around by a tricycle to engage participants and educate them on their tolerance/intolerance to alcohol. More alcohol, more flames! Launched in August 2014 for Burning Man, this mobile wooden photo cart demonstrates participation, gifting, and immediacy by setting up in front of the Man, Temple, and some of the bigger art projects on the Playa. All participants are welcome to have their portrait taken, later to be found at www.waynerd.net and used however they wish. Creator and photographer: Wayne Stadler

POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

At our bi-monthly meetings, the LEA Board of Directors discusses and votes upon policies and procedures. The following are in the process of being discussed, written, and/or approved:

- Privacy Policy
- Asset Management Policy
- Conflict of Interest Policy
- Director Indemnification Policy
- Procedure for a volunteer subcommittee to facilitate ease of leverage of volunteers for all events and initiatives
- Procedure for a First Response subcommittee for all events and initiatives

There is more greatness to come...
